

Welcome to Trinity Home Educators

My Name is Aundrea Hildreth and I writing to introduce you to Trinity Home Educators Co-Op/Community, a vibrant, supportive, and faith-based community for your 7th-12th grade student(s).

We are thrilled to introduce our thriving homeschool co-op, entering our third year! Conveniently located at Covenant Grace Church in Winston-Salem, with a full day of classes on Wednesdays and half a day of classes on Thursdays.

We offer classes without waitlists, ensuring students start learning at once and maximizing their educational progress. This is especially beneficial for families needing specific courses. At Trinity Home Educators, we understand the unique needs of homeschooling families and provide a rich, robust, and engaging learning environment. We offer a comprehensive academic curriculum covering core subjects as Math, Science, English, Spanish I and II, along with American Sign Language I and II. Beyond these fundamentals, we offer a wide selection of engaging academic and electives courses, and enriching classes that spark students' passions.

What truly sets Trinity Home Educators apart is our commitment to community.

We are more than just a co-op; we are family. We foster strong relationships through fun events as rotating monthly special lunches, Costco pizza and Chick-fil-A, as well as monthly birthday celebrations with a blow-up cake, treats, and a gift card for birthday students. We cherish being a part of your student's life and want to celebrate their milestones with them!

We also host monthly dress-up days, take part in meaningful events like "See You At The Pole" and "Bring Your Bible to School," led by students. Also, highlight student talents through art shows, chorus performances, STEM projects, and engineering challenges. The more time we spend together, the stronger our bonds become.

To further support our students, we provide free water and affordable snacks, billed each month as a "Goody Bill." Sometimes breakfast is missed, or someone has hit a growth spurt.

Our upcoming Macaroni and Cheese Competition highlights our exciting events.
Field trips and meet-ups offer learning and connection opportunities.
for the whole family.

Our payment plans show our commitment to making our co-op accessible to all.

We work one-on-one with families to create flexible options with care and understanding.

We incorporate our Statement of Faith and biblical principles into our community. We prioritize transparency and open communication.

Our website, TrinityHomeEducators.com, provides additional information. There is a QR code on the card with this letter. You will also find details about our unique High School Girls Bible Class and High School Boys Bible Class led by a local male pastor and a strong female leader.

We address families' needs beyond education. We offer Transcript Class in the fall and spring, along with Pathway to High School by Mrs. Jennifer Kearns, a master of curriculum at Gullions. We are blessed to have her teaching at our co-op. Also, scheduled each semester CPR, First Aid, and Babysitting certification classes with a prepared licensed instructor.

Thrilled to welcome your family to our supportive community. All teachers, staff, and weekly volunteers undergo federal background checks and fingerprinting at their local Sheriffs office. Safety is very important to us.
